In this FREE Calibre Press Webinar, sponsored by Vector Solutions, Calibre Press's Lt. Jon Davis, a training and FTO program development expert, will discuss how he and his training team have successfully built one of the most effective FTO and in-house training programs in the country.

Lt. Jon Davis

Lt. Jim Glennon (ret.)

Joined by Calibre's Lt. Jim Glennon (ret.) who has built innumerable training programs and trained countless officers, Jon will discuss:

- 5 key components (and mistakes) that make FTO and other training programs successful (or not)
- Destructive mistakes poorly designed training programs create that can get an officer killed.
- Is your training working? How to evaluate & measure officers' level of skills and performance.
- Why first-line supervisors MUST be involved in how their officers are being trained.
- Generational gaps – is your training designed to address tri-generational nuances?
- Handling the challenges of training lateral transfers.
- Understanding adult learners...what it takes to help adults learn effectively and, more importantly, retain.
- Scenario-based training: Building scenarios that leverage surprise and surface real-time responses.
- Using video evaluation as a powerful training tool.
